SCIENCE COMMUNICATION EXHIBITION

12 – 4:00PM – Fisher Museum

Fisher Museum exhibition features a variety of collaborative art and design work from David Buckley Borden's Bullard Fellowship. Curated by Penelope Taylor, the exhibition serves as an inspiring example of interdisciplinary science-communication ranging from traditional landscape renderings to experimental education props.

Light refreshments will be served in the Fisher Museum as part of opening reception. Limited-edition silk-screened artist prints will be available for purchase at Fisher Museum. Exhibition and self-guided Hemlock Hospice tour are free and open to the public from October 7, 2017 to November 18, 2018.
